CONCLUDE MUTUALLY SATISFACTORY TALK ON U.S. SILVER PLAN

American and Mexican Officials Refuse to Discuss Understanding but Morgenthau Announces That Treasury Price for White Metal Will Not Be Changed Just Now

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP).—The United States and Mexican Governments tonight concluded "mutually satisfactory" conversations on the American price-boosting silver policy, but details were closely guarded. Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, in telling reporters of the discussions he has had with Roberto Lopez, assistant secretary of the Mexican Treasury, announced there would be no change tonight in the 77-57-cents an ounce price the American Treasury is paying for newly mined domestic silver.

With the world price for the metal slumping below this figure, a close watch was kept on the Treasury all day for some indication that the American price would be jumped up again. The world price last week reached a high of 81 cents.

Lopez flew here for conferences with Morgenthau when the advancing American prices precipitated a monetary crisis in Mexico and banks called in silver coin. Banks there also were closed over the week-end, but generally reopened today.

DECLINE COMMENT
The Mexican official first talked with Morgenthau last night. Later Lopez said the conversation had been "mutually satisfactory." The two financial experts met again today, but beyond reiterating satisfaction with the results, neither would comment.

Speculators in silver were believed to have become wary when trading on the world markets when the Treasury failed to jump its price above 77.57 after the world price had shot ahead of that figure.

WORLD PRICE DROPS
In London the price today dropped to the equivalent of 74.18 cents an ounce, compared with the New York price, Saturday, of 76.4 cents, and the high in New York, Friday, of 81 cents. In the Montreal futures market, the July delivery fell off to 75.1-2 cents, compared with Saturday's close of 78 cents.

MUST MAINTAIN MARTIAL SPIRIT

Japan's Military Leaders Issue Statements on Russian War Machine

(Copyright, 1935, by the Canadian Press)
TOKIO, April 29.—From high quarters in the Japanese army came indications today that the military leaders of Japan are determined that the Japanese people shall continue to consider war with Soviet Russia a possibility in the coming years.

They issued a series of statements designed to prevent a softening of the martial spirit and to dispel illusions that perfect peace broods over the Manchukuo-Siberian border as the result of Russia's surrender of the Chinese Eastern Railway on March 23 and Moscow's pre-occupation with European war clouds.

General Jiro Minami, Japan's Generalissimo Ambassador to Manchukuo, said at Hsinking: "The Soviet continues steadily to augment its war equipment on the borders of Manchukuo."

MUST SHOW SINCERITY
He said that if Russia wanted to conclude an agreement with Japan for the demilitarization of the Manchukuo frontiers, it must first "show its sincerity by dismantling this war machine."

This and other outbursts evoked a public protest from Ambassador Yureneff of Russia.

"Such allegations," he said, "come either from those desiring deliberately to throw a bad light on the policy of Soviet Russia and to create an estrangement of our two peoples, or from those insufficiently informed."

DOG SAVES LIVES OF LARGE FAMILY

SAINT JOHN, N.B., April 29 (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips and their eleven children today owe their lives to "Bob," the family bull terrier.

The plucky dog ran from the kitchen through a burning hallway last night to awaken Clement Phillips, one of the boys, while the family slept unaware of a fire raging on the first floor of their home.

JAPAN GETS SHARP NOTE

Britain Sends Another Protest Against Manchukuan Oil Monopoly

LONDON, April 29 (AP).—Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, announced in the House of Commons today that a new note of protest had been dispatched by the Government in connection with an alleged Japanese breach of the "open door" policy in Manchukuo.

In answer to Captain Peter MacDonald, Conservative, Isle of Wight, who inquired if Britain had taken any action with other interested countries, particularly the United States, regarding the Manchukuan oil monopoly, Sir John said: "We have been in touch with other Governments on the matter."

The text of the British note, as revealed by the Foreign Secretary, follows:

CONSIDERED INVALID
"His Majesty's Government is unable to accept the Japanese contentions as valid and deeply regret that the Japanese Government is far from using its undoubted authority to insure fulfillment of assurances given by themselves and by Manchurian authorities regarding the maintenance of the principle of the 'open door' in Manchuria, and have attempted to justify an action which involves a clear breach of these assurances and obligations."

"His Majesty's Government cannot but hold those responsible for the Manchukuo oil monopoly, responsible also for losses which it will entail for British interests."

ALL QUIET AT PENITENTIARY

Convict Shot During Alleged Attack With Knife on Unarmed Guard

WINNIPEG, April 29 (CP).—Stony Mountain penitentiary, a grim pile on a fifty-foot elevation surrounded by bleak prairie land—twenty-five miles northwest of here, was silent Monday as nearly all of the 354 convicts went about their routine work in shops and gravel pits. A few spent the day in locked cells for having taken prominent parts in the two-hour riot that Saturday was quelled only when gas bombs quieted a yammering melee and a rifle shot killed one convict.

ARMED WITH KNIFE
Tonight, Warden Colonel G. W. MacLeod, his officers and Coroner A. N. McLeod began formal inquest into the shooting of George Forsythe, twenty-eight-year-old convict, who allegedly was attacking an unarmed guard with a foot-long knife when a watch-tower guard shot him.

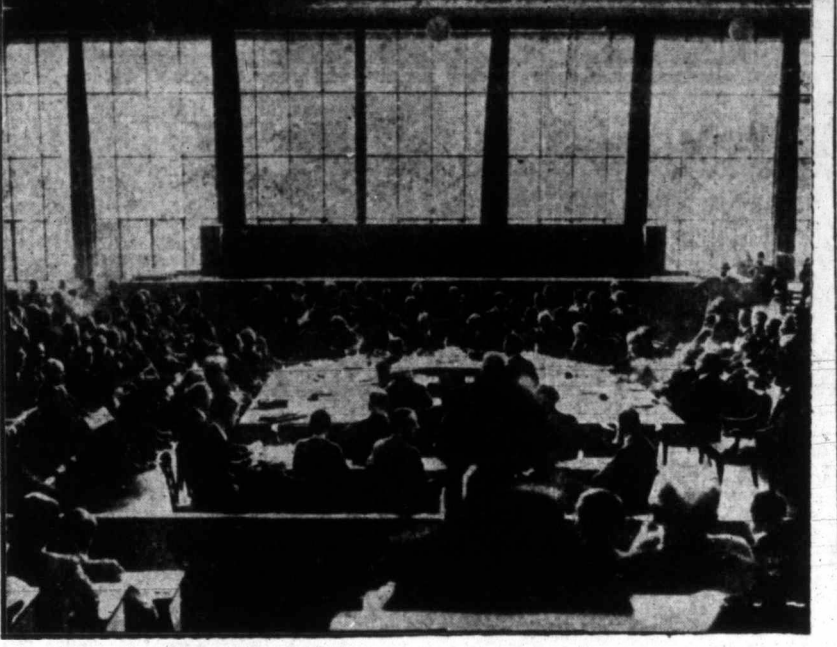

A. A. Heaps, labor member of Parliament for Winnipeg North Centre, visited the penitentiary today.

REGRET OUTBREAK
Mr. Heaps said the general complaint was against the quality, not quantity, of food. Most of the prisoners praised Warden MacLeod and regretted the outbreak had occurred so early in his regime.

(Colonel MacLeod came to Stony Mountain from Prince Albert Penitentiary, April 1, 1935). Convicts told Mr. Heaps that Warden MacLeod had inherited a smouldering discontent.

Hepburn Expresses Stand on Relief Strike Without Mincing Words

CROWLAND, Ont., April 29 (CP).—Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn, without mincing words, tonight told representatives of the Crowland township unemployed that they could not dictate to the Ontario Government, and promised them a "battle to the bitter end" unless they changed their attitude.

"By saying that you will work this week and then have a bigger and better strike than ever if you are not satisfied with what we do about your demands, you have gone back to work with a chip on your shoulder," Mr. Hepburn said.

"You can't bluff the Province of Ontario, and just to show you you can't, we're going to call your bluff. We will not consider your demands until after you have worked next Monday," he stated.

One-Hour Strike at Vancouver Is Staged In Orderly Manner

Premier Pattullo Announces Two B.C. Ministers Will Confer at Ottawa on Relief Camp Situation—Meets Delegation in Office

"EVERYONE is aware that the Province is seething with Communist propaganda, and will judge critically, too, the action of others in striving to make the worst of a difficult situation in regard to relief matters," Premier Pattullo declared yesterday, in reference to developments of the day in the relief camp strike situation at Vancouver.

"As a matter of fact the whole situation is under discussion now between ourselves and the Dominion authorities, and two British Columbia Ministers are at Ottawa for that purpose. I have said before, and I say again, that there will have to be a change in the whole relief system. Money to do work will have to be provided," the Premier continued.

"At the same time we have advised the men who left the camps that provision can only be made for them there while this thing is under discussion. We are not going to maintain them in Vancouver; and we are going to maintain law and order," the Premier added.

BECOME ABUSIVE
To a handful of men from Macaulay Camp and local areas, who called at the Legislative Buildings yesterday, to present protest resolutions in respect to the use of the police at Corbin and at Vancouver, the Premier reiterated the substance of his announced stand. Spokesmen for the men became abusive, the Premier stated, and were escorted from his office after fruitless discussion.

Ontario Decides to Cease Borrowing and Tax to Meet All Costs

Chalk Up 39-37 Victory in Deciding Fixture Before Packed House

CHAMPIONSHIP TROPHY PRESENTED BY MAYOR

Turning back a determined last-minute drive, which ended with the clang of the timekeeper's gong and within two points of sending the game into overtime, Victoria Blue Ribbons captured their second Canadian men's senior basketball championship in the past three seasons, last night, at the Willows, by noosing out Assumption College, Eastern titleholders, in the fourth fixture of the three-out-of-five-game series, by a 39 to 37 score. Over 2,000 fans packed the spacious gymnasium to overflowing and broke out into a wild ovation as the final gong sounded.

The spectators rushed out on the floor to congratulate the Ribbons at the finish and carried some of the players to the dressing-room. Mayor David Leeming presented the trophy, symbolic of the title, to "Chuck" Chapman, tall, red-headed skipper of the Victoria quintette.

GO DOWN FIGHTING
Assumption went down a great fighting team. Trailing most of the journey, the visitors threw everything they had into that last drive in an effort to send the game into extra periods. Red "Scurby" Aitchison got hold of that rapid-fire pass from Sherman with only a few seconds remaining; it might have been a different story. However, it was too fast for him and the ball went into the crowd, and as play resumed from the next toss in, the whistle sounded for the last time.

The Ribbons got the jump on Assumption at the start and were enjoying a comfortable lead at times. Sinking several telling baskets, the invaders crept up and were only

Unified Island Campaign to Be Mapped Out at Regular Meetings

As a direct outcome of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Vancouver Island rally at Nanaimo last Saturday, a permanent governing council for the organization has been appointed.

Twenty-two accredited mayors, reeves, commissioners and special delegates by vote selected Mayor David Leeming, Mayor H. F. Prevost, Duncan, Mayor Charles Sims, Courtenay, Mayor John Barsby, Nanaimo, Mayor W. W. Walker, Ladysmith, and Mayor C. J. Spratt, Alberni, to serve upon the council.

Regular meetings to direct a unified island campaign will be held every three months. Within the next six weeks a conference will be called to take up matters discussed at the Nanaimo meeting and to appoint a permanent chairman.

As an instance of the interest taken in plans of the Tourist Trade Development Association, the Sayward representatives at the meeting journeyed two days by boat and car to reach Nanaimo.

POLICE TAKE PRECAUTIONS

Reinforcements Leave From Calgary in Answer to Communist Threat

CALGARY, April 29 (CP).—Police of Alberta and British Columbia tonight prepared for "May Day" demonstrations in the Crow's Nest Pass mining field.

Corbin, B.C., scene of a miners' strike riot on April 17, was reported to be the May Day objective of 5,000 Alberta and British Columbia miners, twenty-five miles from Blairmore, a Communist centre.

It was planned to mass the miners at Blairmore early on Wednesday morning and from there "march on Corbin," where the miners have been on strike since early in January.

PICKETS ESTABLISHED
Police today had established high-way picket lines on the British Columbia-Alberta border as reinforcements of R.C.M.P. men were rushed to the strike centre from Calgary.

Fifty officers and men, with full equipment and horses, left Calgary early today by train, following reports that threats had been made at Blairmore to "wipe out" the police at Corbin on May Day.

A few hours later, a delegation of seventy-five miners and young Communists left Calgary via the Macleod trail bound for the May Day gathering at Blairmore. Carrying one day's provisions, they expected to "hitch-hike" to the town of Macleod. At Macleod a travelling kitchen and trucks await their arrival for transportation to Blairmore, approximately 175 miles from here.

The miners' delegation, representing workers from the Drumheller and Wayne fields, was escorted to the Calgary city limits today by Communist leaders and a crowd of 300 men and women.

BRITISH POSTAL RATES REDUCED

LONDON, April 29 (CP).—Mail for the Old Land is going to be cheaper.

Announcing changes in postal charges in celebration of the King's Silver Jubilee, the Postmaster-General lists introduction of an Imperial penny postcard rate for July 15 instead of the present three ha'penny rate; the cutting in half of telephone rates between Great Britain, the Dominions and India between June 6 and June 30; substantial reductions in inland telegrams and parcel post and the equipment of more than 1,000 village postoffices with telephones by the end of 1936.

Report of Construction of Naval and Seaplane Base in North Sea Follows Announcement of Submarine Building—Rearmament Appears Directed Particularly Against Britain

France Laying Her Plans for An Air Alliance With Italy

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)
LONDON, April 29.—Members of Parliament, speaking of Germany's submarine programme, charged today that U-boat building is aimed directly at the United Kingdom and demanded that the Cabinet take quick steps in co-operation with the other Powers to check further expansion of the Reich's armaments.

This expansion was further evidenced by the appearance of navy youths on the streets of Kiel, Germany, with armbands inscribed "Submarine School, Kiel," showing that at least theoretical education in the use of submarines has been resumed.

Claims Six Submarines Completed

LONDON, April 30 (AP).—Information that six German submarines have already been completed and are ready to begin practice manoeuvres off Wilhelmshaven, naval base in the North Sea, was claimed today by The Daily Herald.

The newspaper said: "This sensational development was learned in London last night," claiming Germany's decision to build submarines was made last Autumn, and that construction of the U-boats began around Christmas at Hamburg, Stettin and Kiel.

ASKS FOR DATA ON PLANE BASES

United States to Furnish Canada With Proposals for Border Defences

WASHINGTON, April 29 (CP).—Following publication of proposals that the United States establish a "camouflaged" military airbase near the Canadian border, the Dominion today asked the State Department for any data on such army plans. Promptly, state department officials promised to comply with the request.

The incident began with publication of testimony before the House military committee by Brigadier-General Charles E. Kilbourne, assistant chief of staff in charge of war plans. He said that because of the traditional undefended border between the United States and Canada, it would be "unfortunate" to establish a powerful airbase in the Great Lakes region.

ITEM CAMOUFLAGED
"You will notice No. 7 in my bill is camouflaged," Kilbourne said. "It is called 'intermediate' stations for transcontinental flights, but it means the same thing."

Hume Wrong, counsel of the Canadian Legation, went to the State Department after reading this and requested "whatever documents have been given the press and formed the basis of press stories." He emphasized he had asked for no documents or data considered secret or confidential.

Citizens Rally to Support of Active Drive for Funds

Businessmen Canvassing for Tourist Trade Development Association of Vancouver Island Report Collection of $7,404 First Day

PROMISES of $6,595 and collection of $809 in cash toward the $40,000 required to carry out plans of the Tourist Trade Development Association of Vancouver Island were reported last evening during a dinner meeting held in the Hudson's Bay Company dining-room for those taking part in the campaign. This total of $7,404 means that there is now but $32,596 to be obtained to reach the objective.

Mayor David Leeming, who occupied the chair, referred to the splendid beginning of the drive. "Plans of the association must be carried out, and to do this we need funds," said His Worship. "Properly fostered, the tourist business is a quick and sure way to create new wealth for Vancouver Island. This drive is going to be the beginning of things and I know that all you gentlemen connected with it will accomplish what you have set out to do," he declared.

Swivel Guns for Ducks Are Seized

BALTIMORE, April 29 (AP).—Federal agents here today unfolded a story of the surreptitious slaughter of from 200,000 to 400,000 wild ducks annually in the Chesapeake Bay district, and of a well-organized "duck bootlegging" syndicate.

Three deadly "swivel guns," small cannons which discharge thousands of birdshot at a time and bring down as many as 300 ducks each time one is fired, are in the hands of the agents.

Revelations Made Of Added Strength To German Forces

struction of twelve submarines of 250 tons each. This matter is now under consideration. He did not amplify the statement.

Samuel V. T. Adams, a Government supporter, sought to learn Downing Street's policy in the matter. He urged Britain to "take measures in concert with the United States, and, if possible, with Russia, to check this one-sided, dangerous, persistent repudiation of the treaties before it is too late."

Sydney Herbert, Conservative, declared:

"Does not the express intention of Germany to start afresh in building submarines constitute proof, if indeed proof were needed, that German rearmament is directed particularly against this country?"

Sir John ignored both the suggestion and the query, asserting the Government was still considering its policy.

William Thorne, Laborite, asked Sir John: "Don't you think that in the recent conversations in Berlin Hitler did not tell you all of the truth?"

Sir John again did not reply.

The Cabinet Ministers were to continue their study of the problem tomorrow, possibly not reaching a decision until the full Cabinet meeting on Wednesday.

At the same time, it was learned in London that the German Government informed Great Britain of its intentions several days ago.

Informed quarters believed, despite protests which might arise over the new development, that the Government would remain adamant against any proposals to modify its naval building programme.

A DIRECT REPLY

Germany's course in ordering submarines, regardless of the restrictions of the Versailles Treaty, was interpreted in diplomatic circles here as Berlin's direct reply to the British policy at Stresa and Geneva, where Britain, France and Italy, united in condemning the Reich for failure to keep its treaty obligations.

There were many indications that orders for submarines had been placed with the same impulsiveness with which Reichs-Fuehrer Hitler announced Germany's return to conscription and the tearing up of the arms clauses of the Versailles Treaty.

In view of an emphatic assertion by the Defence Ministry that construction of submarines had not yet begun, it is possible that a calmer council prevailed and the order for beginning U-boat building has been stayed.

PLANNING AN ALLIANCE

PARIS, April 29 (AP).—France laid plans today to negotiate a military alliance with Italy, disclosing simultaneously that twelve fast pursuit planes have been assigned to patrol duty on the French frontier to keep German aircraft from spying upon French fortifications.

Victor-Denain, Minister for Air, announced that he was proceeding to Rome on May 9 or 10 to negotiate an air agreement, approved at the Stresa conference, and to lay definite foundations for one.

Meanwhile, the French were leaving the handling of Germany's naval rearmament to Britain, although the naval minister, Francois Pietri, left for London today to confer

TO GUARD FRONTIER

To guard the heavily fortified frontier from spying foreign aircraft, an announcement from Metz said that six ships, capable of 250 miles an hour, will be stationed there and six more at Strassbourg, their pilots instructed to pursue any plane that flies over the frontier.

It was recently charged that German planes had flown over the fortified regions four times in disregard of regulations.

Denain's announced plans to go to Rome indicated that a general pact to join European air forces in combating a danger of sudden attack will be discussed in addition to a bilateral treaty.

RUMANIA ARMING

BUCHAREST, April 29 (AP).—Rumania embarked today on an extensive programme to attain arms primacy in Southeastern Europe and the Balkans.

A ten-year programme, envisioning the expenditure of $200,000,000, was approved at a council session yesterday, at which King Carol presided.

Although details of the plan were kept closely secret, it was learned that the council contracted with the famous Skoda munitions works of Czechoslovakia for the purchase of ammunition and artillery costing $25,000,000.

LIQUOR PRICE CUT IN B.C.

Average Reduction of Sixty Cents a Quart Announced For May 1

Cuts of from 15 to 25 per cent will apply on imported brands of liquor sold by the Liquor Control Board on and after May 1, it was announced yesterday by W. P. Kennedy, British Columbia liquor commissioner.

The full benefit of the Federal reduction in duties and taxes is to be handed on to the public, together with some additional cuts, where possible. The new price list, it was remarked, would compare favorably with any in Canada.

The cuts range up to 65c per Imperial quart on rye whisky; up to 90c on Imperial quart on Canadian Scotch; 90c and 81c on imported Scotch; 80c a reputed quart on Irish; 65c a reputed quart on Canadian gin; 75c a reputed quart on Australian brandy; 80c on imported gin, and 60c on Canadian gin, in the same measure.

Other imported gins will be reduced by 80c a reputed quart; imported rum by $1 an Imperial quart, and by 75c a reputed quart; imported cocktails by 75c a reputed quart, and Canadian cocktails by 25c, in the same measure. Imported liquors coming under British preference will drop from 60c to 75c per reputed quart.

While the Liquor Control Board will drop some of its margin of profit on the new price list, it is expected that reductions in price will make up the difference by increasing volume of sales. The new list will be effective on Wednesday.

Gray Bill Is Made Operative in Case Of Prince Rupert

Arbitrary Reduction of One-Third of Interest Debt to 4 Per Cent and Extension of Present Debt to May 1, 1955, Approved by Cabinet

UNDER the first of the Gray Bills, Prince Rupert was empowered by the Government yesterday to exchange $1,756,211, or all of its outstanding debt, for new debentures at a lower interest rate, without the assent of the electors. Hon. A. W. Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, announced that 72 per cent by value of the bondholders had agreed to the move, and 28 per cent had not agreed.

The operation, possible now that the Government has approved of the "Prince Rupert Refunding Bill," is expected to cut the interest rate of the Northern city from approximately 6 per cent to 4 per cent; interest and sinking funds to be set up on a twenty-year basis to retire what is owed now at the new maturity of May 1, 1955.

BY-LAW APPROVED

Premier Pattullo, Hon. A. W. Gray, Hon. G. S. Pearson, and Hon. K. C. MacDonald signed the order-in-council approving the Prince Rupert enabling by-law.

The old debt in its new form will be payable, eventually, in Canada and the United States, through the Bank of Montreal and the Royal Bank of Canada. The chief changes wrought by the move are extension of the debt by twenty years and the forced reduction of interest rates. Prince Rupert, as a commissioned area, has been under Provincial supervision for about two years.

CAR TARIFF STRUCTURE IS UNSOUND

Ford of Canada Head Says Changes Would Bring Increased Employment

GIVES REASONS FOR PRICE DIFFERENCES

EAST WINDSOR, Ont., April 29 (CP).—Wallace R. Campbell, president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, addressing shareholders of the company at the annual meeting today, said the present tariff structure with regard to the automotive industry in this country "is basically unsound and inadequate," but can be transformed so that it will "induce gainful employment in Canada in increasing numbers."

A dividend of 50c a share, payable to shareholders of record May 8, was declared.

Operation of the manufacturing facilities of the company is continuing at maximum capacity, Mr. Campbell said.

HAS BIG PAYROLL

The company's direct payroll for the first quarter of 1935, he said, was more than $3,000,000, nearly double the amount for the same period a year ago. At present more than 8,500 persons are on the company's payroll in Canada.

Because of a growing feeling in Canada that automobiles are priced too high in comparison with identical products made in the United States, the tariff board is to investigate customs tariff and excise duties as they affect motor vehicles, Mr. Campbell stated.

Mr. Campbell said he believed the investigation would bring about a more complete understanding of the problem on the part of both the Government and the public. He added that he felt certain any legislation based upon the findings of the board would be of a constructive and beneficial nature.

QUESTION OF PRICES

"I believe," Mr. Campbell said, "it is opportune to touch briefly upon the question of selling prices of our products in Canada and to comment on the principal elements which contribute thereto, in relation to the prices of similar products in the United States. The first major factor is volume. Over the period of seven years ending 1934, the approximate average yearly production of motor cars and trucks of all makes in the United States was 3,000,000 units. The comparable figure with respect to Canada was 140,000 units, or less than 5 per cent. It requires no imagination to realize that with such a disparity in the production of motor vehicles it is impossible to manufacture on any basis nearly approaching the mass production volume attained in the major motor vehicle manufacturing country in the world. The next important factor is the customs duties and excise taxes assessed on imported materials, including equipment and supplies such as machinery, coal, etc., in addition to the reflection of such imposts in the cost of purchases actually effected in Canada, the Canadian producer of which is required to import materials and supplies in varying degrees.

"It naturally follows that higher costs of production in Canada must be reflected in the selling price.

EFFECT ON PROFITS

"The question may now be fairly asked, to what extent has this company profited financially from an operating point of view? During the period commencing with the year 1928, which was the first year following the discontinuance of the model T, to the close of 1934—a period during which we had both prosperous years and most depressing periods, and during which our sales and other income amounted to $240,000,000—the financial operating result was a loss of $365,844. That result would hardly indicate that this company had been taking an inordinate profit by reason of tariff protection."

To Suspend Sinking Funds for Year on Burnaby Civic Debt

Interest Only to Be Provided on All but Small Block of Outstanding Debentures — Tax Rate and Penalty Addition By-Laws Also Approved

BURNABY was the second commissioned area in the news yesterday, the British Columbia Government approving of a Burnaby District by-law to omit the major part of sinking funds on the district's debt, for 1935. Interest only is to be provided on $1,694,408 of the debt, and interest and sinking funds on $293,210.

Current tax levies in the area were set out as follows: Municipal loan rate, 12.20 mills; general purpose rate, 17.23 mills; school rate, 9.81 mills; school loan rate, 2.17 mills; Vancouver and district joint sewerage and drainage rate, 2.59 mills; Burnaby district improvement rate, 4.06 mills; district improvement sidewalk rate, 1.8 mills; No. 1 fire area maintenance rate, 1.7 mills; No. 2 fire area rate, 4 mills; ornamental area lighting rate, 2.2 mills; second ornamental area lighting rate, 3.3 mills; Capitol Hill replanning area, 4.44 mills.

Three Burnaby by-laws were approved by the Government during the day. One was the sinking fund suspension measure; another the tax penalty addition by-law, providing for an additional 5 per cent on rates after July 1, and a further 5 per cent at the rate of 1 per cent a month from August onward. The third by-law was the tax levy, to apply on the full value of land and on half the value of improvements. Burnaby has been under provincial supervision for about two years.

CELEBRATIONS ARE GIVEN AID

Estimates Committee Boosts Grants to May 24 and July 1 Boards

Aligning itself with the policy outlined by the Tourist Trade Development Association, namely that attractions should be provided here to induce tourists to visit Victoria, the special committee on estimates yesterday boosted the city's grants to two of its celebrations, but pared the vote down slightly on a third. May 24 celebration will have a grant of $1,500 from the city instead of $1,000.

An appropriation of $750 for the Dominion Day celebration was boosted to $1,000, while a $1,200 vote for Navy Week festivities was reduced to $1,000.

Seven Persons in Tie in Spencer's Estimate Contest

In last week's estimating contest staged by David Spencer, Ltd., seven persons were tied in top place for the big prize of a free trip to England and return on $500 in cash.

The correct weight of the coffee was given as seventy-two pounds nine and one-half ounces, and the following estimated the correct weight: Miss Eberts, 324 Maitland Street; Grace Keefe, 1110 MacKenzie Street; L. M. Norrington, 1320 Franklin Terrace; David Miller, 788 Hillside Avenue; Mrs. A. McCormick, 2548 Prior Street; C. W. Shepherd, James Island, and Lois Peacey, 1618 Fell Street.

On account of the extra large number of entries, approximately 100,000, counting was not completed until late yesterday afternoon.

BUREAU GRANT IS INCREASED

Publicity Work to Be Aided by Extra $5,000 if Recommendation Adopted

In keeping with the Mayor's proposal to bring new wealth to the city by encouraging more tourists to visit Victoria, the special committee on estimates yesterday boosted the grant to the publicity bureau by $5,000.

Last year the bureau was granted $15,000, and now it will get $20,000. Its pre-depression grant amounted to $25,000, and this amount was supplemented by special donations made to the bureau by private citizens.

DRAIN WORK IS PROPOSED

Comprehensive Scheme for Improving Conditions in Low Areas Planned

Work, designed to relieve the more badly flooded areas of Victoria, is being mapped out by the public works department at the City Hall.

The proposals include enlarging and deepening Bowker Creek, installation of a feeder surface drain across the Jubilee Hospital grounds, and construction of another large surface drain to run alongside that already serving the Cecilia Ravine area, which becomes inundated during the heavy rains.

Total cost of the work has not been estimated yet, although it is known that the Cecilia Ravine work will cost $11,000. This amount has been provided in the budget, so that the tremendous flow of water that comes across the city boundary from the Saanich side may be carried off from the low-lying area where Francis Street, Alpha Street, Speed Avenue and part of Burnside Road are situated.

SURVEYING CREEK
An engineer is now employed, making a rough sketch of Bowker Creek, with a view to securing an estimate of the cost of deepening and widening, and in some places straightening out the course. This creek drains a large area, starting as it does at the foot of Mount Douglas. It drains part of Saanich, Oak Bay and the city.

Improvement in this drainage would relieve the situation in the Oaklands district, and also the low area bordering on Fort Street near Foul Bay Road.

SECURE EASEMENT
Also designed to relieve flooded areas, a twenty-four-inch surface drain across the Jubilee Hospital grounds is planned. The hospital board of directors yesterday granted the city an easement across its property so that the work could be done. This surface drain would start at a point on Richmond Road, 620 feet north of Fort Street. It would connect in a direct line across the Jubilee Hospital grounds with the intake at the intersection of Davie and Fort Streets.

This drain will relieve the load already placed on the drains in the Haultain-Shebourne Street district by giving two outlets for the surface water. At present the surface drain from the Haultain-Shebourne district flows in an opposite direction to that now proposed. The new twenty-four-inch pipe would carry the water off quicker toward the Bowker Creek outlet.

COMMITTEE BACKSLIDES

City Estimates Group Earns Sobriquet When Budget Figures Increase

"The Backsliders" was the sobriquet that members of the city's estimates committee earned for themselves yesterday when they adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon, after having slipped back $6,000 in their assault upon the 1935 budget.

Reductions for the day totaled $10,305, but increases amounted to $16,560. Net result was a $6,255 increase in the budget. It leaves the committee with nearly $30,000 more to cut off expenditures, or make up in increased estimated revenues.

D. A. Macdonald, comptroller, was the "wet blanket" at yesterday's session. Just when the committee was congratulating itself on having accomplished another substantial cut, the comptroller announced that $10,000 would have to be added to provide for the 5 per cent interest chargeable against a shortage in the superannuation account.

HEAR FIREMEN

The firemen were given a hearing. They asked the committee to uphold their request for a 5 per cent increase in wages, instead of the 3 per cent that already has been allowed. They also asked for special consideration for several of the employees, who are not regular firemen.

Today, Mayor David Leeming and Mr. Macdonald will bring in a report on what progress has been made by the committee, so that it can see actually how much more has to be struck from the budget to strike a forty-one-mill rate.

It is expected that the committee will consider salaries at today's session, and probably the cost of structural changes at the City Hall to complete the work of consolidation.

By Friday it is hoped to be able to hold a council meeting, at which it is proposed to introduce the tax rate by-law, so that tax notices can be sent out.

Medical and Nursing Services

In each of its factories, the Imperial Tobacco Company maintains a well-equipped hospital, with one or more nurses constantly in attendance, and a doctor either in attendance or on call. In adopting these precautions to safeguard and conserve the health of its workers, the Company confesses to a personal interest in the well-being of every one of them. At the same time, it has the additional satisfaction of knowing that its course is strictly in line with sound business practice.

Time lost through sickness means earnings lost to the worker and production lost to the Company. Because there is a mutual advantage in reducing such loss to a minimum, at the first sign of sickness or of undue fatigue the worker is expected to report immediately to the hospital for examination, treatment, and rest if need be. Hours or even minutes spent in checking incipient trouble may easily mean days, possibly weeks, saved in fighting serious illness.

A complete case history card is kept for every employee, based upon a thorough medical examination that is repeated at varying intervals, depending upon the facts and conditions revealed. Minor conditions needing correction which can be effected without absence from work, are treated in the Company's hospital.

To the hospital, of course, come all emergency cases. Fortunately, accidents are so few that on the average less than one day's work per year is lost for every nine employees. But even the occasional scratch or cut is immediately brought in for dressing, as a precaution against infection. To the hospital too, at mid-morning and mid-afternoon every day, come all underweight cases for their free ration of milk. And to the physician in charge, any employee may come at any time, for free diagnosis, free medical advice.

Any absence from work of more than three days' duration is promptly investigated by a Company nurse, who calls at the employee's home, talking with her any wages earned but unpaid. If sickness of a serious character is found to be the cause, she sees to it that competent medical supervision is provided at once.

It affords the Company real pleasure to serve the interests of its workers in these ways, and none the less so since experience has proven it is mutually beneficial.

AN OPTIMISTIC SPIRIT

The meeting of Mayors, Reeves and representatives of unorganized districts at Nanaimo on Saturday was significant of a new spirit of progress on Vancouver Island. The dominating note was unity of purpose and action for the common weal. The public addresses were pitched in a high key of broad-mindedness and toleration. The sectional differences and inter-community jeal-ousies that too often featured past endeavors to develop co-operative enterprise were conspicuous by their absence. In place of such disintegrating elements there was evidence of a complete and whole-hearted acceptance of the principle of mutual helpfulness. The plenary session of community representatives in the afternoon, presided over by Mayor David Leeming, of Victoria, constructed a definite programme and set up the framework of a continuing body to direct centered efforts towards the attainment of the island-wide objectives which were set as being desirable for the general betterment of conditions.

Mayor Leeming is to be congratulated, not only on the success that has so far marked the accomplishment of his vision of a united island, but for the generous gesture that he made in suggesting that the headquarters for the new co-ordinating council be located at Nanaimo.
This action was significant of the new spirit of the movement, and did much to allay old prejudices grounded on the belief held in smaller communities that Victoria would seek to control, for personal advantage, any movement including all sections of Vancouver Island. It was clearly pointed out by Mayor John Barsby, of Nanaimo, that no community was called upon to abandon its local ambitions or plans to secure the proportion of tourist trade that its initiative and enterprise warranted, but that such rivalry could with profit to all be predicated on a new spirit of friendship and honorable competition.

Such was the spirit of the Nanaimo gathering.
It was permeated by a healthy and helpful atmosphere. It was redolent of a new purpose and characterized by a broad and generous outlook. It was, for the first time, the expression of a Vancouver Island consciousness. Every section of the island was represented. It was evident also that the smaller communities, perhaps, have obtained a clearer vision of the possibilities of an articulate and organized public opinion than is possessed by the citizens of Victoria.

No section of Vancouver Island has more to gain by the crystallization and development of inter-community co-operation than has Victoria.
This city was once the business as well as the political capital of the Province. For years its commercial influence has been on the decline.
Various expedients were resorted to from time to time in an effort to halt that retrogression, but such endeavors were purely local. Now, with the birth of a new spirit and a definite plan embracing the island as a whole, there is reason to believe that not only can Victoria regain some of her former prosperity, but she may be able to assist in the development of the smaller centres of population as well. It is apparent that our efforts to help ourselves unaided have not been very successful, and the same has been true of other island sections, but there is a brighter future in prospect for all of us in an island-wide planned economy.

The Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island is this week seeking funds to carry on the work that has been initiated in this city. Business men are being asked to contribute, not as a donation, but as an investment in the development of a greater measure of prosperity for themselves and the community as a whole. The money to be raised will be for the carrying out of Victoria's own plans in connection with the tourist trade. The revenue derived from this modern phase of big business is new wealth. Holiday-makers are good spenders, providing they are pleased with the reception and the facilities for enjoyment that they find in the locality to which they resort. The Tourist Trade Development Association executive wisely considered that as a first essential to success there must be a unification of island thought and sentiment, and a co-ordination of effort. The Nanaimo gathering demonstrated that this foundation has been laid. There is now need for an active and energetic local programme, and for this purpose funds are required. It is sound business sense to support such a purpose.

TRANSMUTATION OF PERSONALITY

There is a claim made on behalf of medicine which may go too far and which assuredly does go too far if it believes application can be made in the case of all individuals. That claim is the ability of medical treatment to change the personality of the individual. This ability is premised by Dr. Josef Lobel, of Vienna, who says that every illness works great changes in the body and soul, and medicine, by getting rid of the disturbing influences and checking or canceling them, "makes a new man." Therefore, Dr. Lobel believes that contemporary science has found the ways and means "of influencing the personality directly by finding out what goes into the physical, mental and moral make-up of the being."

In explanation of his theories Dr. Lobel says science has obtained proofs that the body is not only covered with the telegraphic net of the nerves, "but has a postal system of its own." Its stations, he says, are the endocrine glands which discharge their secretions into the blood. "These juices, or hormones, are the messengers that bring each organ the tidings about the others' needs and enables them all to co-ordinate their activities and to create the harmony in the body household, which is really a 'hormony.' Upon their proper mixture depends whether we are short or tall, fat or slim, stupid or intelligent, in a word our personality, which is the individual's very own and most sacred property."

In medicine, Dr. Lobel says that the brain is no longer regarded as playing the leading role it was believed to hold. In other words, it does not control all the processes of the body. Some of the most important are controlled by the system of endocrine glands. "The pituitary gland," says Dr.
Lobel, "not larger than a small nut, controls our growth, and a morbid alteration in it may produce a giant or a dwarf. The scarce or overabundant secretion of the pineal gland makes for immaturity or maturity. The adrenaline pouring from the adrenal glands makes us brave or cowardly. From the islands of the pancreas the pancreatic juice comes the stimulus for the utilization of sugar in the organism, but also for our being fat or slim, lazy or active. The thyroid dictates the pace and rhythm of our life. It may make us clever, vivacious, temperamental or dull, stupid and apathetic."

On the basis of the foregoing theories Dr.
Lobel believes that the medical profession should be allowed, at the request of an individual, to influence that individual's mental and moral personality. He thinks the profession can carry the transmutation of personality to its final conclusions. In this way criminal tendencies could be checked and the moral constitution altered by appropriate injections. It is a dangerous conception though put forward in all good faith.
The day still seems far distant when, notwithstanding all the blessings with which medicine has endowed humanity, those suffering from mental and moral ills, the lazy, the jealous, the cowardly, etc., will be sent for medical treatment.
Personality is a ticklish thing to tamper with by physical means designed to effect its transmu-tation.

Germany is engaged as never before on a campaign to promote the physical fitness of her people. As an item in this campaign a remarkable exhibition has just been held in Berlin, arranged by the Minister of the Interior, Dr. Frick. It was called "The Wonder of Life," and it presented all kinds of facts, figures and exhibits relating to the physical development of the individual and the nation, "as Nazi doctors and sociologists would like to see it." Germany is being made more self-conscious all the time of herself and of her future.

THE THREE LESSONS

There are three lessons I would write—
Three words as with a burning pen.
In tracings of eternal light,
Upon the hearts of men.

Have Hope. Though clouds environ now,
And gladness hides her face in scorn,
Put this the shadow from the brow—
No night but hath its morn.

Have Faith. Where'er thy bark is driven—
The calm's support, the tempest's mirth—
Know this—God rates the hosts of heaven,
The inhabitants of earth.

Have Love. Not love alone for one,
But man as man thy brother call,
And scatter like the circling sun
Thy charities on all.

Thus grave these lessons on thy soul—
Hope, Faith, and Love—and thou shalt find Strength when life's rudest surges roll,
Light when thou else wert blind.

—Schiller.

SPEECH

Talk happiness. The world is sad enough Without your woes. No path is wholly rough;
Look for the places that are smooth and clear,
And speak of those to rest the weary ear
Of earth, so hurt by weary strain
Of human discontent and grief and pain.

Talk faith. The world is better off without Your uttered ignorance and morbid doubt.
If you have faith in God, or man, or self,
Say so; if not, push back on your shelf
Of silence, all your thoughts of faith shall come;
No one will grieve because your lips are dumb.

Talk health. The dreary, never-changing tale
Of mortal maladies is worn and stale.
You cannot charm, or interest, or please,
By harping on that minor chord, disease.
Say you are well, or all is well with you,
And God shall hear your words and make them true.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Note and Comment

E. J. R. B. D.

In politics, what begins in fear usually ends in folly.—Coleridge.

It is somewhat unusual in these days of gloom and depression for anyone to utter a word of cheer for the comfort of taxpayers. Mr. W.
T. Straith has been saying that the position in Victoria is quite different from the picture of it drawn by some of the elected representatives of the city; that within the next two or three years the civic debt will be considerably reduced and that within the next ten years it will be substantially reduced, and in the meantime provision has been made in advance for all the services necessary to the health, convenience and comfort of the citizens. The comforter has not dealt in generalities, after the manner of too many platform orators in these unrefined times. He gives facts based upon figures for his statements. If there should be an increase in civic taxation within the next few years, that will not be because of fixed charges, a problem of almost all governments, but because of increases in current expenditures. So that the future of Victoria will depend largely, if not entirely, upon the character of the men the citizens elect to administer their business.

The most enlightening and the most cheering feature of the analytical statement of Mr. Straith is that when the maturing loans have been paid off taxation within the city need not necessarily be higher than the rates of taxation in the surrounding municipalities and that residents within the city will not be penalized in comparison with their suburban neighbors for living in and making improvements within the boundaries in which they live and move and make their living. So that if the picture drawn by the artist be not overdrawn, more than one perplexing municipal problem will be solved automatically. There will be no advantage in living in the country, and the problem of creating a Greater Victoria will be solved.

It is sometimes said that the reality forgotten man in these days of progress, imaginary or actual, is the taxpayer. We trust there is hope that in the future the taxpayer will not be forgotten, as he may be when the business conditions change and prosperity bounds around the corner. The future of Victoria will be assured if the men in charge of civic affairs keep their heads out of the clouds and their feet upon the ground. The principles upon which our municipal affairs should be administered in the future are:
No more loans and pay as you go.

The prospects for the general taxpayer are not so assuring as they are for the local taxpayer. The provinces are going deeper into debt. The Dominion is meeting its current expenditures, but it is borrowing to meet its fixed charges, the heaviest yearly liability being the cost of carrying the Canadian National Railway. The People's Railway is Canada's biggest problem, and it will not be solved after the manner we trust and hope Victoria's problem will be solved—by liquidation out of accumulated sinking funds. It might be solved if the advice of practical railway men were adopted; but there are obstacles in the way, and they are entirely of a political, not of an economic nature. But apart from these barriers, the cost of government is being increased, and the taxpayer is the forgotten man, whether a man of business or merely a salary receiver or a wage earner. Taxation cannot be increased without increasing the cost of living, and that is something which dips into the pockets of every man.

If the cost of everything goes up,
there will arise the problem of competition in the markets of the world, and it is said Canada cannot prosper unless she be placed in a position to export her products profitably to foreign countries.
There are commissions by the score roaming all over the country trying to find out and advise governments what must be done to allay discontent and compose the relations between employers and employees;
to discover some way of enabling the primary producers to get more for their products and the middle men or speculators to get less for acting as agents between the producers and the consumers. It is alleged price spreads have been unfair, and that the share of labor in many businesses has been too meagre.

There are commissions investigating all these things, and the one thing sure in connection with them is that they will cost millions of dollars and that the taxpayer will be called upon to pay. The people of Canada and the United States are going to find out, if they have not already found out, that democratic forms of government are the most expensive forms of government. But that is not the fault of democratic principles. It is the fault of the men and women who have been chosen to give practical demonstration of how sound principles may be misapplied.

CRICKET

Sir—The meeting of umpires called for by the executive of the V. and D.C.A. took place last Tuesday. It was decided to organize an umpires' association, and the meeting adjourned for that purpose until Tuesday, April 30, to meet at 8 p.m. at the offices of Heisterman & Forman, View Street.

By request of Mr. Lethaby, president of that association, all volunteers for service as umpires at this season's matches are asked to come to this meeting. If they are unable to come in person, they will be so kind as to communicate with the undersigned, acting secretary, by letter or telephone G 5688.

In view of the high schools and probably some of the grade schools taking up cricket this Summer, it is hoped to have a large number available as umpires, and to get away to a good start this meeting is necessary.

September, 1932, Mount View High School put on a cricket team, and after overcoming all sorts of difficulties gave a good account of itself the two succeeding seasons. This was made possible by the generosity of friends of that school, particularly its Parent-Teacher Association, and help gladly given by masters and parents.

It is hoped that similar action will be taken this Spring by several high and public schools.

for the 120th meridian west. It is counted from 9 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.
The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blank occurs in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during the successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of a lock, deduct 18.6 feet from the height of high water as above given.

PACKED HOUSE GREET'S PLAY

"The Play's the Thing" Accorded Splendid Ovation At Shrine Hall

It was not surprising that a crowded house greeted the Little Theatre Association's presentation, "The Play's the Thing," in the Shrine Auditorium last night. It is the recognition always accorded a talented performance, and last night's presentation was the third to be produced this season by the company. Its ability to give good entertainment is being recognized more and more, so that one may look forward to its fourth production to be given shortly, namely, "Maid in Uniform."

Last night's play is an adaptation from the Hungarian by P. G. Wodehouse, assuring the audience of plenty of comedy, satire and a touch of the burlesque and farce, not to mention a carefully constructed structure of ever-rising climaxes. The dramatic moments were created entirely by suggestions, through the medium of voices behind a wall, and they were, perhaps, even more effective than those portrayed in view of the audience, imagination being able to provide a wealth of detail that would not be permissible on the stage.

FRASER LISTER

The principal role was taken by Fraser Lister, who played Sandor Turai, a famous dramatist. He was at his usual best, which means that the ovation he received was such that would merit the performance of a professional player.

Probably the next for honors would be Albert Bailey, cast as Almaday, a leading actor. His first introduction in the play was merely as a voice. His first actual appearance was not of sufficient duration to permit him much opportunity to win the audience. But in the third act, he completely "stole the show" during the first half, and had the audience rocking with laughter.

Of Dallas Homer-Dixon, the only feminine role in the play, one must pay special tribute. She had a difficult part, having to dominate the play throughout, despite the fact that she made no personal appearance in the first act, and played opposite six other actors. She kept the balance nicely, dominating each scene by her superb acting. She was cast in the role of Ilona Szabo, a prima donna.

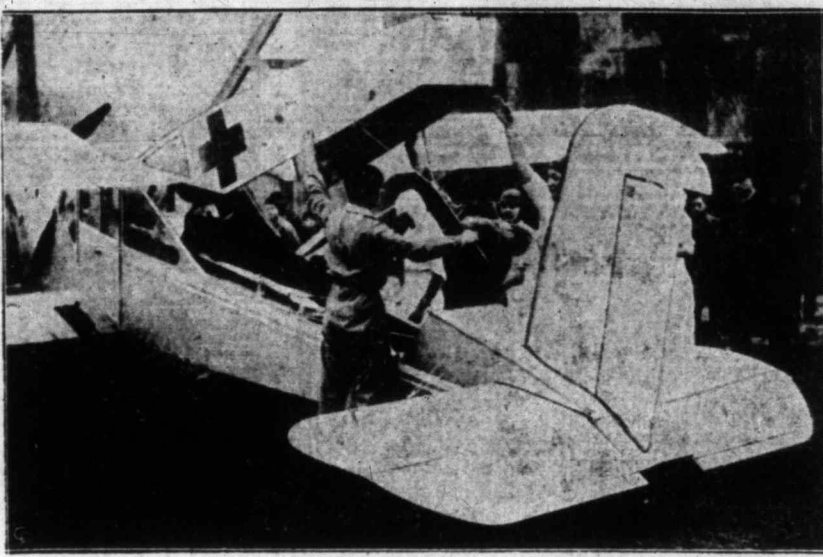

Austin Goward, as Albert Adam, made a convincing portrayal of a young, dreamy composer, passionately in love with the prima donna, to the degree of setting her upon a pedestal.

CHRONIC PESSIMIST

Hugh W. Creelman, as Manky Turai's collaborator, portrayed the chronic pessimist to perfection, and in doing so gave the necessary contrast to Mr. Lister's comedy. His acting in that regard was most commendable, and an exceedingly important contribution in a production where the whole comedy is based largely on satire, or upon a play on words.

H. S. Burn made a most admirable butler. C. A. Gibbard was cast in the role of an excitable secretary, and also contributed to the merriment that prevailed throughout the third act.

France Develops Ambulance Planes

The jar of putting an injured person through the narrow door of a cabin plane is eliminated by this new type of ambulance plane introduced at Le Bourget Airfield, near Paris. The fuselage opens up, the patient is placed within and the fuselage is closed. Only one person may be carried at a time in this manner.

STRIKE STAGED IN ORDERLY MANNER

Protest meetings organized by the C.C.F. both at Vancouver and Victoria were ignored provincially as contributing nothing to a solution of the situation.

STRIKE PASSES QUIETLY

VANCOUVER, April 29 (CP).—Vancouver's one-hour strike went off quietly and according to schedule today with some 800 members of two labor organizations answering the invitation of relief camp strikers to stage the walkout as an indication of sympathy with the campers, who are protesting against camp conditions.

Officials of the Vancouver and District Waterfront Workers' Association estimated 627 longshoremen stopped work at 3 p.m., the hour set for the strike. Work was resumed at 4 p.m. Fourteen deep-sea vessels and several coastwise ships were affected.

The executive of the Seafarers' Union, the other labor organization answering the strike call, was unable to give any estimate of the number of men in that organization who walked out until a complete checkup of the vessels in port was made, which will probably take two days. They believed, however, that between 100 and 200 men composing deck and engine room crews of vessels in port were affected.

HOLD MASS MEETING

Prior to the strike hour, relief campers and sympathizers held a mass meeting at Cambie Street grounds, then marched in a column about 3,000 strong to the waterfront, where speakers invited waterfront workers to join the parade back to the grounds. Few, if any, longshoremen, accepted the invitation, but en route some fifteen employees of the Hastings Bakery joined the marchers. The parade returned to Cambie Street ground and after hearing several strike speakers, dispersed quietly.

Yesterday evening, strikers paraded to the arena, where a mass meeting attended by 14,000 was held. Today marchers included several hundred women sympathizers.

Strike leaders state they plan a mass demonstration at Cambie grounds, Wednesday, May 1, with a parade to Stanley Park to follow.

SUGGESTS CONFERENCE

VANCOUVER, April 29 (CP).—Mayor G. G. McGeer stated tonight that he had wired Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, suggesting the Ontario Premier call a conference of Premiers to which mayors would be invited, to again discuss the relief and other municipal and national problems.

Mayor McGeer made the statement at a late city council meeting, and explained he had taken the action following Acting Prime Minister Sir George Perley's statement, last week, that the Dominion Government could do nothing toward a national works programme.

Mayor McGeer also informed the council that a detachment of fifty Royal Canadian Mounted Police en route here from Regina, Sask., were being sent at his request. After last week's riot, when relief camp strikers caused several thousand dollars damage in a Vancouver department store, Mayor McGeer said

NEW JURIST IS GREETED

Mr. Justice Lucas Accepts Invitation to Attend Victoria Bar Function

HON. F. G. T. LUCAS

For the first time since his elevation to the bench last December, Hon. F. G. T. Lucas is presiding over Supreme Court sittings in the capital this week. He will remain in Victoria for at least two weeks in the discharge of his judicial duties.

Yesterday morning His Lordship presided in Chambers, disposing of a short list of applications requiring attention.

Mr. Justice Lucas, as a prominent member of the British Columbia Bar, is well known in Victoria, having practised his profession in Vancouver for years, and appeared frequently in the courts in Victoria during the days when he was in practice.

Early last December he was appointed a judge of the Supreme Court of this province, succeeding Hon. W. A. Macdonald, who retired from the bench after many years' service.

WILL ADDRESS BAR

Occasion is being taken of the presence of Mr. Justice Lucas in the city to have him attend the annual meeting of the Victoria Bar Association, which will be held in the Union Club on Friday, when His Lordship will be the guest of the evening. The meeting will be preceded by the annual dinner of the Bar Association.

Frank Higgins, K.C., president of the Bar Association, with H. C. Hall, K.C., and A. D. Crease representing the members of the bar, yesterday extended greetings to the new member of the bench on his first official visit to the city. At the same time the invitation was extended to His Lordship to attend the Friday evening dinner and meeting, which was accepted.

Fireman Retires From City Force

Robert Clarke, city fireman, will retire on superannuation today after completing twenty years' service with the force.

Mr. Clarke was the recipient of a wallet at a ceremony held in the Trades and Labor Hall, Saturday night. The presentation was made by his fellow workers, Chief Alexander Munroe officiating. After the presentation, an enjoyable smoking concert was held under the direction of Ted Blair. Among the artists were Frank Merrifield, Cecil Heaton, Stanley James, E. Clayards and A. Goodmurry.

WAR VETERAN IS TAKEN BY DEATH

William Smith, aged fifty-four years, 820 Mason Street, a Great War veteran and a resident of Victoria for more than thirty years, died last night at the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Mr. Smith spent his younger days in the Royal Navy. In 1916 he went overseas with the 88th Battalion and was wounded in action on August 21, 1917. He was a member of the Naval Veterans Branch No. 42, of the Canadian Legion, under whose auspices funeral services will be conducted.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. R. Stevenson, Long Island, New York. The remains are resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

ATTACK SHEEP; KILL SIXTEEN

Two Dogs Injure Thirty-Four More in Vicious Onslaught On Flock

Roused by the killer instinct, two dogs, running at large, played havoc with a flock of sheep, the property of James Turner, of Uplands Farm, over the week-end. The dogs killed sixteen outright, left seven more dying and severely injured another twenty-seven before they were killed. It was reported by Oak Bay police.

The flock was pastured in a large field at the corner of Cedar Hill Road and Gz-don Head Road. The dogs were finally caught and destroyed, and it is possible that action may be taken against the owners.

In view of the attacks on sheep by dogs, the Oak Bay police have issued a warning to all dog owners that dogs must be kept under control. Under the Sheep Protection Act, police say, owners of sheep have the right to destroy dogs attacking sheep.

IDAHOO GOES WET

BOISE, April 29 (AP).—The first legal sale of liquor in Idaho in nearly a score of years was made today, when the first state-owned liquor store opened to do business here.

ISLAND GROUP RICH IN GOLD

Cowichan Lake Area Shows Valuable Ore Which Is to Be More Fully Developed

Periodically the importance of Vancouver Island as a quartz mining field is called to the attention of the public as a field for careful investigation. From the region situated near the head of Cottonwood Creek in the Cowichan Lake area, comes information that G. Long and D. Powell, experienced miners, men who have been working what is known as the El Capitan group in that district, are about to carry on a more aggressive policy.

The work which has been done has been on a lease of 7 1/2 acres from a syndicate in Durcan. The work is at an elevation of about 4,000 feet or within 700 feet of the apex of the mountain. In the locality numerous parallel shear zones appear.

The shear on which the work is now being prosecuted is about 15

NATURE PRODUCES A ROOF

Did nature produce the roof over your house and household? A roof that holds to itself a special charm... a natural beauty... a roof that defies the elements for decades... thoroughly and at economical cost... a roof of British Columbia Red Cedar, of shingle or shake. Here indeed is a roof possessing all the weather combating essentials, even to protective oils... a bounteous forest product of British Columbia... for thousands of years the sole building and utility material of the Indians of the Pacific Northwest. Lodges and Totems, hundreds of years old, still stand today as romantic proof that British Columbia Red Cedar is the wood everlasting. By all means roof and re-roof with nature's time defying product of beauty and durability... the shingle or shake of British Columbia Red Cedar.

EVERY ONE THOUSAND FEET OF CEDAR LOGS PROVIDES ONE DAY OF EMPLOYMENT...

The total stand of Cedar in British Columbia is approximately 52 billion feet. The annual cut of Cedar in British Columbia's forests could probably be increased, with safety, to three times the present volume without impoverishing forest capital. Here indeed is a great potential source of employment dependent upon the market consumption and extended uses for British Columbia Cedar—the native wood of a hundred uses.

THE PRIZED WOOD OF THE NATIVE INDIANS...

For many centuries... reaching far back into antiquity, the Cedar tree from its roots to its very tip has been cherished and greatly prized by the native Indians of the Coast of British Columbia. The present day Cedar Shingle has its origin in the large thick shake-like slats used by the Indians for roofing purposes. All Totem Poles were carved from solid cedar as were the fine and speedy sea-going war canoes of the raiding and warring Coast Indians, who but fifty years or more ago, constantly swooped down upon the less aggressive tribes, to pillage for plunder and slaves.

Anniversary Marked By Jubilee Alumnae At Reunion Dinner

Beach Hotel Is Scene of Much Celebration by Graduate Nurses and Specially-Invited Guests—Programme Entertaining

THE annual reunion dinner of the Jubilee Hospital Alumnae last night was a particularly gay affair, as it was the fifteenth anniversary of the alumnae. A dinner was held at the Beach Hotel, and guests included the 1935 graduation class of the hospital to whom an invitation had been extended. Mauve and yellow tulips were Miss D. Saunders, and to the alumnae, Miss R. Bailey proposed the toast and Miss M. Mirfield replied.

The programme arranged was one of much enjoyment. Miss E. Rossiter sang, "There's a Land," and Miss Elita Hood sang, "The Carnival," accompanied by Miss Edith Hood. A reading, "Maudie Breaks the News," was given by Miss M. Dickson and as a climax a humorous skit entitled "Railway Matinee," was presented. The players were as follows: Breakman, Miss E. Rossiter; rooster, Miss D. Hibberd; hesitation, Mrs. J. MacKenzie; fog, Mrs. J. H. Russell; Miss Precision, Miss M. Dickson; passengers, Miss D. Hargreaves, Miss M. Banfield and Mrs. Alfred Dowell.

Mrs. Peters Finds Manila Life Hectic

Mrs. H. M. Peters returned with her husband and two-year-old daughter, Vaughan, the latter in charge of an amah to the North American continent after nearly two years in Manila, aboard the Empress of Asia on Friday.

They are the guests at the Empress Hotel before leaving for their home in San Francisco. Later, Mrs. Peters and Vaughan will go to Santa Monica and Los Angeles, before the family return to the Orient.

Mr. Peters is the representative of Spreckles, the famous sugar concern in Manila.

Speaking of life in the Philippine Islands, Mrs. Peters gave a bright little picture of Baguio, where the white population of Manila migrate for three months—March to June.

LARGE FORTUNE

Large fortunes have been made in the past few years in a gold-mining town, five hours' motor trip from Manila. With the mountains all around and pretty chalets-like houses—Mrs. Peters says, Baguio resembles a clean little Swiss village in every respect save its native population.

Graceful and artistic, the Igorits, as they are called, carve wonderful wooden bowls and weave Manila cloth superlatively designed. Despite the cold of their mountain fastness, the Igorits wear nothing in the way of clothes save a loin cloth and an embroidered panel back and front below the waist.

The social life of Manila, Mrs. Peters states, is hectic. "You go from 9 o'clock in the morning when you probably start with a bridge party until the small hours save for a siesta in the afternoon. Women are on the whole very smartly gowned, play tennis and badminton enthusiastically, and put in the lot of time at golf. There are numbers of clubs—all social—and you can be terrifically gay every minute you are awake."

Anxious to prove his diet, a convert at a Negro revival went to his pastor and asked that he should be put to work in the Lord's vineyard. "What would you like to do?" the preacher asked. "Jes' anything," replied the convert. "Ah is ready to do whatever de Lawd axes me, jes' so hit is right and honorable."

Showers Are Arranged for Bride-to-Be

BAMFIELD, April 29.—Miss Gladys Evans, whose marriage will take place in June, has been the guest of honor at several showers. The United Church Sunday School, of which she is secretary-treasurer and also teacher of the junior girls' class, gave her a kitchen shower at the manse. As Miss Evans' fiancé, Mr. Theodore Poot, is assistant lightkeeper at Pacha Point, the model lighthouse, made by Mr. D. Wishart, was a most appropriate setting for the many useful gifts.

Mrs. J. B. MacKay was hostess at a miscellaneous shower. The tea table was beautifully decorated with Spring flowers and a special cake for the bride-to-be.

Weddings

TILLESEN-GRIEVE

A quite wedding was solemnized on Saturday night at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. G. Wilson, Pemberton Road, when Margaret Ethel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Grieve, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Ralph Tillesen, of this city, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tillesen, of Long Beach. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue georgette frock over blue and white checked taffeta and a navy blue poke bonnet hat with a bunch of forget-me-nots. She carried a muff of forget-me-nots and bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn Grieve, and the groom was supported by Mr. Fred Freer.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the K. of C. Hall where the bride and groom stood beneath an arch of Spring flowers and greenery to receive the good wishes of their friends. They were assisted in receiving the guests by the groom's aunt, Mrs. A. Tillesen. The three-tier wedding cake centred the table, which was attractively arranged with vases of red and white carnations. The decorations were the work of Mrs. D. Munro and Mrs. J. Quinn, friends of the bride. Among the lovely gifts received were a pair of reversible blankets and a silk bed spread from the meat department of Spencer's, where the groom is employed. During the reception Miss Mona Morgan sang "I Love You Truly," and Mr. J. Almond sang "At Dawning." Mr. and Mrs. Tillesen will make their home at Danes Court, Yates Street.

Bridge Tea to Aid Isolated B.C. Districts

Additional tea guests will be welcomed this afternoon at the bridge tea being held at the home of Mrs. C. H. O'Halloran, 999 Beach Drive, under the auspices of H.M.S. Resolution, I.O.D.E.

The proceeds will be used to further the work of the chapter in the more isolated sections of the Province. Through such channels as the Red Cross Outpost, Hospital, the Isolated Family Fund and the fund for secondary education, clothing, layettes, books and magazines are distributed among the scattered residents of these sparsely-settled areas. Stationery and other supplies are sent to children taking the School by Correspondence courses sponsored by the Provincial Department of Education, and other children, mainly the families of returned men, are helped through high school.

The need for such assistance is great and the help is given systematically and regularly. In order that the work may be continued and increased as the necessity arises, the general public is asked to support the chapter in its effort to help those who are far from hospital and school facilities.

ENGAGEMENTS

FRYER-PEARSE

"THE CHILD"

By REGINALD H. WIGGINS, M.D., C.M., L.M.C.C.

ESTHETIC APPRECIATION

If for no other reason, an esthetic development may be urged so the child may gain satisfaction and enjoyment from his leisure time. Whether he gains any benefit from his leisure depends on whether it lifts him or lowers him in an appreciation, not of material, but of esthetic values, which tend towards his spiritual development.

In all children there is a craving for the beautiful. It is instinctive. It is our privilege to create conditions and provide what is necessary in order that they develop a finely discriminative interest in the beauties of nature, in music and painting, in literature and the other arts, so that they may live that full, rich life which was meant for them to enjoy.

In the home, the material surroundings—pictures, books, reading matter, the color schemes and even ornamental decorations—have an enormous influence on forming the mind, character and behaviour of children.

Simplicity of design and color should characterize the home and, particularly the child's room, aiming to provide an environment that will suggest wholesomeness, cheerfulness, fineness of feeling and beauty of design.

The child should have the sunniest and airiest room in the house. He has greater need for this than we.

Care must be exercised in the choice of pictures in the home and in the child's room. Children are not developed in their critical faculties and are apt to unquestioningly accept the ideas presented to them in pictures. If these pictures in their character are good or bad, so will the child be affected. From birth the eyes of the child should rest on pictures of helpful suggestiveness.

Opera Is Given by Students

The pupils of Strathcona Lodge Girls' School, Shawinigan Lake, delighted a large audience of parents and friends on Saturday afternoon, with their excellent presentation of Purcell's opera, "Dido and Aeneas" (setting for juniors), in the school gymnasium. The acting and stage management were under the capable direction of Miss Muriel Simes and Miss Dorothy Robinson, of the school staff. Every effort was made to reproduce the classical atmosphere of the story. The beautiful dresses of the two groups, Trojans and Phoenicians, were designed and made in the school. The opera was well acted in a setting of cleverly arranged lighting effects. The singing and music of the opera were excellent, and reflected great credit on the careful training of the students by Mr. Stanley Bulley, organist and choirmaster of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria. Following the performance, tea was served in the lounge.

Checks and Plaids Lead Spring Fashion Parade

By MOLLIE MERRICK
(Copyright, 1935, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

HOLLYWOOD—Checks and plaids in gay colors, with snowy white as a contrast, lead in Spring's fashion parade.

Ann Dvorak, high-priestess of the moderns when it comes to chic, wears one of the newest and smartest costumes made of green and white plaid heavy sports silk. This suit is a three-piece affair, the dress utterly simple and finished at the neck with a tiny band and bow of white pique.

The jacket carries a waist-length collar of pique, with a pleated ruffle across the shoulders to give it that certain esprit that goes with Spring. The pique ruffle is repeated on each sleeve with great success.

Ann Dvorak's hat of rough green straw is the newest of the new, combining the high crown of the Winter with the medium-brimmed chapeau that usually comes into popularity with sunny weather.

The forward slant of the brim of this hat is accentuated by the green grosgrain ribbon trimming that falls forward in a trig tailored bow.

This type of suit may be repeated in a smart chiffon-weight wool or even in gingham for Summer, if one is young and fresh enough to dare it.

SUMMER DANCE FROCKS
The flowers that bloom in the Spring, in-a-may, may have nothing to do with the case!

But this Spring they have everything to do with chic. Flowered prints are as good or even better now than they were four years ago when we first succumbed to their charm.

Flowered silks for afternoon wear are in order; nothing could be more chic than flowered chiffon for the semi-formal dinner dress. And flowered organza, the last word in charm and femininity, will lead in the race for loveliness when it comes to formal dancing frocks this Summer.

With all this gay material, the accessories will of necessity be plain, picking up the dominant note of the frock or, better still, contrasting daintily with it.

ACHIEVE SUN TAN

Hollywood motion picture beauties have a way of keeping up with the season, so far as complexion is concerned, without the least bit of worry. Meet them on a rainy day in February and they may be pink and white with that hothouse sort of loveliness that is breath-taking.

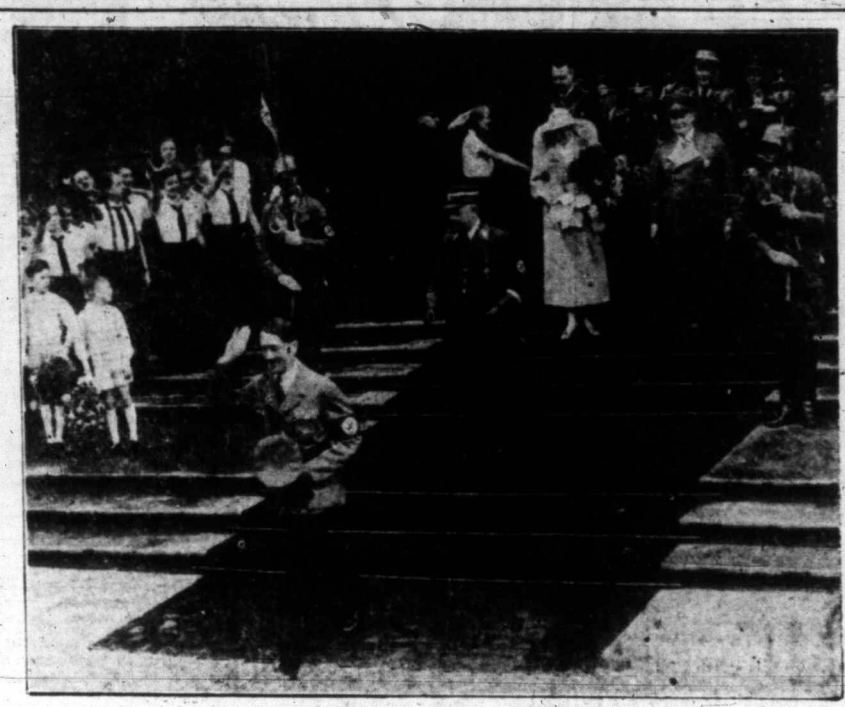

Meet them a week later, when the days have become suddenly sun-drenched, and they are brown as a berry and look as if they had spent weeks basking in the desert.

How do they do it? Some tell and others don't. Some really go down to the desert and acquire a smooth sunburn in a week or less.

More of them get out the good old sun-lamp and use it in the privacy of their boudoirs. You'd be surprised what can be accomplished with four or five days of sun-lamp treatments; and then, too, remember that all these girls have their Summer powder blended a deeper and deeper brown as the days go on.

Dolores del Rio acquires her tan in the most unusual manner of all. She has an outdoor sun-bath. It consists of a pit about four feet deep and as long as the average bathtub. Filling it with that gleaming white sand that comes from the Monterey coast, Miss del Rio bakes herself for a while each day in this sand pit, and comes out the most wonderful golden brown imaginable.

German Chancellor Leads Bridal Party

Der Fuehrer lives up to his name by leading the newly-wedded couple, his minister of aviation, Hermann Goering, and the former Emmy Sonnemann, out of the City Hall in Berlin, Germany, after the wedding ceremony. Goering's wedding rivalled the splendor and pomp of the Imperial Household before the abdication.

RECALL DAYS OF OLD DEPRESSION

British Columbia Went Through Serious Time in 1935, Old Records Show

The present depression, now believed to be on the wane, is apparently not the only one through which British Columbia has passed. In 1935, according to old journals, the colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia experienced a great falling off of trade at that time despite all efforts to improve conditions.

Writing under date of December 1, 1935, Governor A. E. Kennedy related the dire straits in which the colonies found themselves to Rt. Hon. Edward Cardwell, Secretary of State for the Colonies in England. His letter reads as follows:

"It is an undoubted fact that great commercial depression has existed and still exists in both these colonies, and I am sure that you would have been glad to have learned the opinion of the cause or causes of it.

"These causes, in my opinion, rest with the people themselves and are beyond the reach of any remedy which you can apply. They may be found in a system of reckless credit, competition and over-trading. It is notorious that large quantities of goods were thrown into the Cariboo market this year by the merchants of Victoria which did not realize the cost of carriage.

SUPPLY AND DEMAND
"The supply far exceeded the demand, and while this proved a great boon to the working men, it left the Cariboo traders without means of paying their debts to Victoria, and Victoria merchants without pay for the goods they supplied. To this obvious cause for 'depression' may be added the more stringent administration of the customs laws at San Francisco and the neighboring American ports, where a large amount of goods were formerly introduced from Vancouver Island without the formality of going through the customs house.

"I may further remark that the depression is by no means confined to British Columbia and Vancouver Island. Many thousands are departing monthly from San Francisco owing to the same causes, common to all gold-producing countries, and will continue more or less until men become honest and prudent."

In 1936 the records show that a petition was presented to the Governor and signed by some 400 settlers complaining of the high taxation. This, the Governor claimed, was simply a new method of endeavoring to secure a union of the two colonies.

"LOVE OF THE GAME"

"The trouble with present-day fighters," says seventy-eight-year-old Tommy Orange, of London, a bare-knuckle boxer back in the eighties, "is their yen for big stakes." Tommy says he used to fight twenty rounds for half-a-crown, and then, if he beat his opponent very badly, he'd give him the winnings. "Love of the game" meant something then, he says.

Hollywood and its gay night life . . . fascinating Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, Glendale, Pomona and other resort cities. Maps, drawings and text explain how to get here, where to go, what to see and do, and what everything costs.

We show you how a two-weeks vacation, which is 16 days counting the week-ends, is ample. How living costs here, 18% under the U. S. average, make your total expenditure little, if any, more than for an ordinary vacation. And how the cool summer climate—summer average temperature only 69.4°—means brisk, rainless days, nights of restful sleep under blankets.

LOVELY FROCKS IN NEW PICTURE

Kay Francis Starred in "Living on Velvet"—George Brent, Warren William in Cast

Long recognized as one of the best-dressed women of the screen, Kay Francis fairly outdoes herself in the matter of wardrobe in her forthcoming First National production, "Living on Velvet," now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

Orry-Kelly, famous style creator of the Warner Brothers' Studio, designed the frocks and dresses from suggestions brought back by Miss Francis from a trip abroad.

Kay portrays a young woman of fashion, who turns her back on wealth and security to wed a man

RACHMANINOFF WORK IN FRIDAY RECITAL

By special request, Randolph Hokanson will include the Rachmaninoff "Sonata in B Flat Minor" on his programme when he gives his concert at the Empress Hotel on Friday night, May 3, at 8:30 o'clock.

This beautiful work of the great composer and pianist has not been played in Victoria before, and it speaks volumes for the young pianist to have this difficult work on his repertoire.

Mr. Hokanson will play, also by request, some of the Chopin numbers he played at his previous recital last month. Helen Ruth Tait, accompanied by Mrs. Clifford Warn, will contribute a group of songs.

The Beautiful Derelict

CHAPTER XXVI

"Think of Ming and Kiah keeping watch all night," Pat mused. "Dan was certainly fearful of someone or something that he thought threatened Sam."

"He will tell us," Stone said. "I think, Mr. Pat, while you talk with your brother, I will call up Inspector Cox, for we will be censured if we delay too long."

Kiah returned with Dan. The man nearly collapsed under this new blow. "What does it mean?" he groaned. "What does it mean? Are we all doomed to violent death? Who will be the next?"

Stone looked at Dan Wayne with infinite sorrow and then slipped away and telephoned Cox. He went slowly back to the room where Sam and Kiah lay dead, where Daniel Wayne was fighting against a nervous collapse, and where Patrick Wayne was doing all he could to comfort his stricken brother.

"I must ask you to go to some other room," Stone said. "For it is my duty to turn this suite over to the police as nearly as possible as we found it. Kiah, you may tell Ming of this, but is anyone else asking you about it, refer them to me."

Kiah took Ming to a small empty office and told her the news. She listened in silence, and then said slowly, "Now, perhaps, you will believe in Korowar's powers. You know, you and I watched the night through. You know no human being entered or could enter Samfari's room. Then what explanation is there but the power of that devil of all evil? A dagger in his heart, you say? What dagger? Where from?"

"It's a heathenish looking thing. One of those that form a trophy on the wall of the library."

"Which one? No, don't tell me; I'll tell you. It is the Sumbawan kris. It is not with a long hilt of worked gold, which goes on down the blade for several inches from where it is joined? Is there not an ornament on top of gold and ivory, something the shape of a little ship?"

"Yes, yes, you have described it exactly. How did you know?"

"I guessed. It is the choice of the Korowar."

"Oh, shut up the Korowar! I'd shut you'd be ashamed, a sensible woman as you are, to harp on that nonsense."

"I'd prefer not to have you call it nonsense. And if you discard the evil spirit, who shall you blame for this murder?"

"It's the work of an evil spirit, all right, but said spirit is in the heart of a human being, not a wooden image."

Kiah went off, leaving Ming in a state of bewildered grief. She had given her affection and allegiance to Samfari, partly because of his resemblance to Barry, and partly because of her sense of duty to Dan Wayne.

Now she firmly believed that the evil spirit had removed Barry and again had removed Samfari. Who would be next? She saw the evil spirit removing Dan Wayne himself, because of his sin. Though she had been assured that Samfari had been married to Samfari's mother, she had some secret doubts.

And then she received a summons to go to Mr. Stone in Samfari's apartment. She found Inspector Cox in the library with the detective.

"Just a few words now," said Stone with a kindly look. "Just tell the Inspector of your keeping watch last night."

"Yes, sir. It was this way. Kiah and I took two hours each in turn. We relieved each other right on the minute each time, and we can both swear nobody went in or came out of Mr. Samfari's rooms all night."

"And you heard no noise inside?"

"None, sir."

"What time did you cease your watch?"

"At six o'clock, as Mr. Dan had instructed us."

"Thank you, Mrs. Mingle; that will be all for just now. Any questions, Mr. Stone?"

"Only one. Tell me, Ming, do you ascribe this death of Samfari to your Korowar?"

"Who else? And Ming looked at him, her eyes filled with tears. "Who else could get in through locked doors, could go through that door into this room, could take that gold-hilted dagger—kris. I mean—and use it on Samfari and then go out again, leaving everything else untouched? Go out again, past me or past Kiah? Do you think that would be possible, Mr. Cox?"

"More possible, ma'am, than the same acts committed by a block of wood."

"That's where you err, Inspector," Ming said calmly. "The deeds were done by that image, which you call a block of wood, but which by a miracle, is enabled at times to do the will of its evil master, the Devil."

"That will do for now, Ming," Stone said. "We will talk with you again about this."

"Yes, sir," and with her usual dignity the housekeeper went away. Just then Dr. Barrows, the medical examiner, arrived. He was a tall, gaunt man, with a preoccupied air, which did not lessen as he looked at the still figure of Samfari. Beyond the briefest of greetings, he said no word, but set about his investigation with a puzzled look on his face.

Samfari lay on his back in the middle of the bed, and the hilt of the weapon protruded from the region of his heart. It was, as Ming had surmised, a very elaborate kris, and the handle, of finely worked gold, was of such intricate and intended pattern that there was small chance, if any, of securing an impression of a finger print.

And beside, Fleming Stone felt pretty certain that if this death was by the same agency as the two on the yacht, the criminal was quite astute enough to wear a glove or wrap a handkerchief round the kris handle.

"The bedclothing is turned down," said Barrows, finding his voice, "proving that the murderer attacked his victim while he was asleep."

"Drugged, probably," Stone said. "Otherwise, to pull the sheet down so far would waken him."

"Yes, that is what I was about to say. An autopsy will settle that question. Who discovered the body?"

"I did," replied Stone.

"And you found everything just as it is?"

"Precisely. Nothing has been touched."

"Then young Mr. Wayne was certainly drugged or in a very deep sleep. Do you recognize the weapon?"

Though the question was addressed to Stone, Cox answered, "Oh, yes; it is one from a—bunch on the wall—"

"A panoply," Stone assisted him; "you know, small weapons, arranged in a semi-circle. There is such a group on the wall of Barry's library, the next room to this."

"Is one missing?"

"I don't know," Cox returned, but Stone said, "Yes, one is missing, and as I recollect it, this looks like the one. But any member of the household can tell you that."

"Could it have been a suicide?" Cox wanted to know.

"No," Barrows informed him. "It was wilful and deliberate murder. The weapon is sharp and powerful and was sunk in the victim's breast by a strong arm and a knowledge of the use of such a weapon. Often it is not easy to tell how long a man has been dead, but in this case I think I can say about seven hours. Samfari was probably stabbed at somewhere near three o'clock this morning."

"And death was immediate?"

"Instantaneous, probably. Now, that is all I can tell you without an autopsy. So far as you know, who was the last person to see him alive?"

"The two Wayne brothers, I think," Stone said. "There was a party here last night in honor of Mr. Dan Wayne's adopting Samfari as his legal son and heir. Quite a lot of us came upstairs together, and then we said good-night and drifted to our own rooms. When I left Samfari, there was no one with him except Dan and Pat Wayne."

"Your rooms are on this floor?"

"Yes; next this apartment, there are two or three single rooms, then my suite, then some more rooms, and then, at the south end of the house, Dan Wayne's rooms. It's a barn of a place."

"I see. Now, gentlemen, I should like to see the Wayne brothers."

Stone opened the door between the bedroom and the library and found Dan and Pat waiting.

"Do whatever you think wisest and best, Mr. Stone," Dan said, a weary note in his voice.

Inspector Cox put routine matters in the hands of members of his own staff, also bade his photographers, finger-print men and others do their parts, and he himself, looking deeply perplexed, asked Fleming Stone and Dr. Barrows to confer with him.

"Come to my place," Stone said. They sat round the table, and Cox said, complainingly, "I think it's too bad that I should have these complicated cases all the time. I don't know how to deal with them. The yacht case was bad enough, but this of Samfari is worse. I've had experience with murders, but not with people who get in and out of locked doors and kill people with kris'es. If you know, Mr. Stone, won't you tell me how that stunt could be done—whether it was done that way or not?"

Stone looked grave. "Inspector," he said, "to get in and out of an apparently unenterable room is a problem that confronts every detective now and then. Sometimes it is easily solved, sometimes it seems impossible of solution. We are not sure, as yet, that we are up against that problem, but if so, I fear it will be a hard nut to crack in this instance."

"Why do you say we are not confronted by the question?" Barrows asked. "Surely the young man was killed and to get into the room you had to break in."

"We did break in," Stone said, "but it may be we didn't have to."

"You mean there is a secret en-

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If April 30 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a.m., from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m.

It might be wise on this day to avoid making violent motions or unexpected movements, as influences conducive to sprains, wrenches, as well as falls, may prevail. When walking keep your eyes wide open, and take no risks when crossing a street. Agreeable surprises are likely to make this a satisfactory business day. Social activities will perhaps require your using a great deal of tact to keep in the good graces of some very erratic people, who may be among those present. It will be good judgment to be careful, if asked by an acquaintance to use your influence in advancing a matter he is interested in, how much pressure you bring to bear, so as not to place yourself under too heavy obligations. Married and engaged couples, as well as those willing to go a homecoming, will best serve their individual interests if they practice unselfishness on this day.

If a woman and April 30 is your birthday, you possess a tremendous amount of undeveloped depth, probably due to your love to indulge in frivolous pastimes. You have the power to unfold a latent talent of great money making possibilities. Remember that while the bee flutters from flower to flower, it does not overlook the work it has to do, so it will pay you to emulate the bee. Cupid will in all likelihood favor you most graciously, and love filling your life—possibly will be responsible for a great deal of your happiness. A gift, specialty, or dress shop, tearoom, lecture platform, or elocution class, may help to solve your financial problems.

The child-born on April 30 may require, when it first starts attending school, that special attention be given to encourage it in a feeling of confidence in its own ability to do whatever any of the other are capable of doing.

If a man and April 30 is your natal day, restlessness, as well as an urge to travel, should not be permitted to interfere with your business interests. You probably are a great believer in running things by system. It might be well to bear in mind that complicated systems can sometimes prove costly, so it will be wise to avoid them. Salesmanship, law, medicine, journalism, acting and painting offer a man of your versatility the chance to win an enviable name for worth while accomplishment.

"Ella attracts the men, doesn't she?"

"Yes, her father is a steel magnate."

Says Millions

Being Spent in U.S. for Trains

American railways are spending millions at the present time in placing streamline trains on their roads and replacing stationary equipment, according to H. A. Connitt, Portland, Ore., superintendent of the United Pacific Railway, who is visiting in Victoria.

"By June 8 the Union Pacific will have a streamline train racing the distance between Portland and Chicago in forty hours, whereas the trip at the present time takes sixty-eight hours," he said. This train will cover the route every five days and is expected to prove attractive to men in business and others, he declared. Mr. Connitt said there was a great drive at present for more speed in railroad trains. Accompanied by Mrs. Connitt, Mr. Connitt plans to visit here for several days.

MAKE PLANS FOR REGATTA

Victoria J.B.A.A. Names Candidates for May 24 Event at Gorge

Further plans for the inter-city regatta at the Gorge on May 24 were made recently at a meeting of the rowing committee of the Victoria J.B.A.A. held at the club headquarters at the Gorge. There was a good attendance of members present following the nightly workout on the waters of the Gorge.

Vancouver Rowing Club will send over crews for the singles, doubles, fours, and the eight-oared events, the feature races on the attractive programme. Victoria will send the pick of their large army of oarsmen against the Mainlanders and feel confident of making an excellent showing. The first race is billed to get under way at 2 o'clock.

NAME CANDIDATES
Victoria J.B.A.A. oarsmen named, yesterday evening, candidates for the different crews as follows:
Eights—Jim Mann, Arnold Mann, Hugh Francis, Don Davis, Bill Seattle, Jack MacDonald, Ian McConnan, Gordie Scott, Jim Temple, Max Winkler and Mac Billingsley.
Fours, No. 1 Crew—Bill Seattle, Jim Mann, Hugh Francis and Arnold Mann.
Fours, No. 2 Crew—Don Davis, Ian McConnan, Jim Temple and Jack MacDonald.
Doubles, No. 1 Crew—Jim Mann and Arnold Mann.
Doubles, No. 2 Crew—Mac Billingsley and Fred Parker.

Singles—Hugh Francis, Ian McConnan, Bill Stancil and Mac Billingsley.
Local eliminations between the Victoria crews will in all probability be held during the week of May 24, and the winners will carry the J.B.A.A. colors into battle against Vancouver.

Vancouver Rowing Club crews have yet to be named for the May 24 regatta, but the probable line-up of the Mainlander oarsmen is as follows:
Eights—Tom Townley, Dave Bowman, Bill Hornby, Bill Hare, Bert Hoffmeister, Les Callan, Jack Fox and Harry Kostman.
Doubles—Ted MacDonald and "Babs" Jaggard.
Singles—Ted MacDonald or "Babs" Jaggard.

Frank Smith is coach of the Vancouver crews.
Victoria J.B.A.A. oarsmen are training nightly for the May 24 regatta, and the N.P.A.A. at Elk Lake on July 12 and 13, and new members are always welcome.

CABARET MAY 3
Good progress was reported yesterday evening by the committee in charge of the cabaret carded at the J.B.A.A. clubhouse on Friday, May 3. Tickets have been moving steadily, and judging by the advance sale a large crowd of Bay oarsmen and their friends will be on hand. Many feature events are being lined up for the attractive floor show which will be presented. Dancing will be from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock, with the intervals for the entertainment numbers.

Brantford Indians May Seek New Home

Canada's Six Nations Indians may desert the reservation at Brantford and live in the United States under the government of hereditary chiefs, according to reports. A delegation of three Indians, including Chief Chauncey Garlow, have left Brantford to take part in a conference of Six Nations Indians in Syracuse. The conference will discuss whether or not the Six Nations Indians will support the Wheeler-Howard Bill in the United States Congress, which provides self-government for the Indians without interference from the whites. Above layout shows Indians, typical home and Brant Monument at Six Nations Reserve, Brantford.

Jane Dixon Says:

READERS HAVE TAKEN A HAND IN GIVING ADVICE ON HEART PROBLEMS SENT MISS DIXON

Difference of opinion is what makes our world such a fascinating world in which to live.

A reader has been good enough and interested enough to send along a collection of her answers to some of the problems presented daily in this column.

Her viewpoint is well worth the consideration of thoughtful persons who have problems of their own to meet and who care enough about all humanity to want to know what makes it tick.

I shall give excerpts from the letter in quotation, and discuss them as we go along.

"How often I've thought that if some of you writers who are full of criticism and ready to advise divorce, might better counsel holding on to happiness by practising more tolerance. There are so many little things to put up with, so much that must be made the best of in married life, but it is well worth trying to overlook small faults and tolerating short-comings."

Answer: Perhaps we do sound critical, but you see people write and ask us for the truth, and in all honesty we must give it to them, let the chips fall where they may. You are right about practising tolerance in marriage, making every effort to hold on to happiness. Personally, I consider divorce a last resort, an emergency measure to prevent a greater disaster than legal release from marriage vows. Many persons do not recognize divorce under any circumstances, and they are just as likely to be right as I am.

"Now comes the old stand-by 'querulous bickering of in-laws.' Some day these young brides will find their own children married, and themselves in the position of the mother-in-law they dislike so much. Not that I am taking up for the mothers who try to run the homes of their married children. They should step aside. They've had their turn. It's a wise mother who says: 'I love you all and will spend a little time with each of my children.'"

Answer: It is true that the very name "mother-in-law" is enough to put a chip on many a bride's shoulder. When it comes daughter-in-law's time to step aside, she will, in all likelihood, behave toward her son's wife in the accepted mother-in-law fashion. Lucky the mother who can maintain her own home and just go visiting her married children.

YOUNG FOLKS SUFFER BROKEN HEARTS, TOO

"The many letters from the young folks, too, who, at the mature age of seventeen, cry that they 'will never love another.' If they only knew that five years from now they will laugh at themselves, they'll wonder what they could have seen in that person. Myself, I thought the world had ended at the age of eighteen when the boy in the case flitted to another. Why at eighteen, the world only had begun for me! I do believe it is the way we carry through our first storms that helps or hinders us to weather the storms in later life."

Answer: Of course it is utterly foolish for youngsters to whimper about their lost love, but remember we are looking at them through the lens of maturity and we must not be impatient. A tender young heart, when broken, is just as poignantly painful as a shattered heart that has reached its harvest ripeness.

No use to tell Seventeen what will happen five years from today because Seventeen is interested in NOW, and will not believe there is a laugh left in the world once the "one and only love" has gone boom! Experience is the only teacher youth will accept in the classroom of the heart.

GIVE A HELPING HAND TO OTHERS

"Some of your girls write arrogantly—I am quite popular, considered good-looking, etc." If they would put as much energy in helping their friends as they put into helping themselves, there would be fewer discontented letters. We make most of our own happiness in life through giving. I have lived, loved and been loved, but the happiest of folks must have their trials and losses. It's the way we meet our setbacks, the courage or lack of it we show, that makes us great or small."

Answer: All of youth is arrogant, cruelly so at times. Arrogance is a characteristic of the pin-feather age, and there's nothing to be done but wait for the child to outgrow the affliction.

I hope you have now, or that you have had, some young folk of your own, and that you have been able to pass along to them your wise and kind philosophy.

Thank you for your letter and for giving me a hand.

Doug Peden to Join "Torchy" In East Soon

A member of Victoria's Blue Ribbon cagers, and one of this city's most promising young athletes, Doug Peden, brother of "Torchy" Peden, of six-day bicycle racing fame, will leave tonight for Toronto, where he will join his brother next Sunday. Doug will travel East with members of the Windsor Assumption College basketball team. Upon arrival in Toronto, he will watch "Torchy" in action in the six-day bike race starting Sunday evening. Following this event, Doug will travel to Newark, N.J., to take part in amateur bike races there. He will train with his brother, "Torchy."

Doug has an outstanding reputation as an amateur rider in British Columbia and has the physique and everything else that goes to make a topnotcher except experience. It is his ambition to make the Canadian cycling team for next year's Olympic Games at Berlin. Following the Olympiad it is likely Doug will turn professional and break into the six-day game.

84 Civic Organizations Back the 5-Year Plan

This week you are asked to subscribe to the Five-Year Plan of the Tourist Trade Development Association and naturally you will ask "Who is behind this campaign?" The answer is that it includes the officially appointed representatives of eighty-four civic, social, religious, recreational, musical and service organizations. In addition to that, an all-Island unity campaign has been conducted to such purpose that twenty-two Up-Island branches have been formed, presided over in every case by the mayor, reeve or other leading citizen. Leading citizens of Victoria and practically every Up-Island community back the Five-Year Plan because it is a definite and practical movement for the prosperity of Vancouver Island through tourist trade development.

THESE BUSINESSMEN ARE GIVING THEIR TIME THIS WEEK TO COLLECT FOR THE "ON TO PROSPERITY" CAMPAIGN. GIVE WHAT YOU CAN... NOT AS A DONATION... BUT AS AN INVESTMENT FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF YOUR OWN BUSINESS.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Blind Sportsman—Captain Gerald Lowry, of the 2nd Royal Irish Rifles, was totally blinded in an engagement on the Western Front in October, 1914. With his sight completely gone, he left the hospital on Christmas, 1914, firmly determined to begin life all over again. He has admirably succeeded. Captain Lowry, now a noted Doctor of Osteopathy by profession, is a skillful swimmer, runner, boatman, boxer and the clubhead, and tells sports, Captain Lowry has become very proficient. The caddy places the ball against the clubhead, and the sightless player how far ahead the next hole is. Then the captain swings, and achieves a 225-yard drive from the tee without difficulty.

The First Wedding in 774 Years—The village of Regenstien, situated within the ruins of an ancient castle in the State of Brunswick, Germany, is an enclave belonging to the State of Prussia. The village is the smallest constituted community in Germany, having only seven inhabitants. The last wedding to be celebrated in Regenstien took place in 1161, within a year after the castle was erected. Until 1935, when the daughter of the local innkeeper and Mayor celebrated her marriage in Regenstien, the interval of 774 years was entirely free of any marriages in the locality.

WILD SCENES MARK CUBS' VICTORY OVER PIRATES

Four Players Are Ordered From the Field at Chicago

Fists Fly and Six Home Runs Are Crashed as the Cubs Eke Out 12-11 Victory Over Pirates in Wild National League Fixture—Boston Loses Again

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP).—Six home runs, two fist fights, banishment of four players, a ten-run Chicago rally in the eighth and a parade of ten pitchers marked riotous proceedings today as the Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, meeting for the first time this season, battled furiously and literally through two hours and forty-one minutes before the Cubs won a 12-11 decision.

In between a barrage of homers, including two by Gus Suhr and one by Arky Vaughan, of the Pirates, and one each by Fred Lindstrom, Phil Cavarretta and Captain Woody English of the Cubs, the players engaged in a fist encounter that led to the banishment of Shortstop Bill Jurgens and Pitcher Roy Joiner of the Cubs, and Second Baseman Harry Lavagetto and Pitcher Guy Bush of the Pirates. All except Bush were participants in the game at the time.

The trouble started in the fifth when Lavagetto, doubling to score Manager "Pie" Traynor and boost Pittsburgh's rally lead to 6-2, got entangled with Jurgens' spikes as the latter covered second. Lavagetto got to his feet with fists flying.

SWARM ON FIELD

Umpires and players of both teams swarmed on the field, but before the situation was under control, Bush, who was traded to Pittsburgh by the Cubs last fall, engaged in a short verbal battle with Joiner and then rushed him, knocking the Cubs hurler to the ground with several rights that brought blood to Joiner's nose and left a six-inch scratch on his left jaw.

Bush finally was led off the field and Joiner taken to the club house. But Manager Charlie Grimm decided to take a hand, challenging his former pitcher. Umpires and other players kept the pair apart, however, and Grimm was permitted to remain on the coaching line.

CINCINNATI, April 29 (AP).—Paul Dean rang up his third victory of the season today, holding Cincinnati's Reds well in check, while his St. Louis teammates battered out a 7-2 decision.

Pepper Martin led the attack on Brennan and Freitas with three hits, one a triple, in as many times at bat.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
ST. LOUIS, April 29 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers opened a four-game stand here today by handing the oft-beaten St. Louis Browns their worst drubbing of the season, 18-0, before a crowd numbering less than a thousand. It was the seventh consecutive loss for the hapless Browns.

Defeats Marigold 2-1 in Saanich Football League Final on Sunday

Burnside soccer eleven, Sunday afternoon captured the championship of the Saanich Football League, when they defeated Marigold, 2-1, at the Hampton Road grounds. The victory gave the Burnside possession of the hand-some Whittaker Cup, symbolic of the loop title, presented by Norman Whittaker, M.P.P.

M. Constable gave the newly-crowned champions a one-goal lead after the first five minutes of play, when he beat Cochrane, Marigold goalie, from close range. Marigold fought back gamely and twenty-five minutes later Cook put the teams on even terms, when he broke through and beat Wilkinson. Half-time came with no further scoring.

The clubs battled hard in the final canto, with play veering from one end of the field to the other. Ten minutes from full time Burnside garnered what proved to be the winning tally, when N. Alexander scored from a penalty kick. Teddy Hawkes handled the whistle and the teams were:

Burnside—Wilkinson, J. Casillo, Kennedy, H. Casillo, Kelman.

Special doubles and rinks competitions are being arranged to take place on the Burnside greens on May 5 and 6. The doubles will be played on May 5, and the rinks competition will be played on May 6. Both of these competitions are open to members of other lawn bowling clubs in the city, entries for which must be in the hands of the Burnside secretary, S. C. Hawkins, not later than noon next Friday. The draw and times for play in these events will probably appear in the daily press next Saturday.

Club members are reminded that entries for the Walter Chambers singles will close on Monday.

NONPAREILS WIN HONORS IN PLAY-OFF

Colonist Trundlers Lift Commercial League Title—Marshall Tops List

Bill Poole's Colonist Nonpareils captured the Commercial Fivepin League championship by toppling a total of 5,307 pins in the five-game play-off last week to defeat three other squads after an evening of some fine trundling by the competing aggregations, especially the winners. By their triumph, the newbies take possession of the Walter Dinmore Trophy for the ensuing year.

The morning newspaper crew registered the following scores on their road to victory: 1,022, 1,114, 1,217, 1,022 and 932. New Method Laundry finished second, and Bert Waude's Hairdressers took third position, with the Knights of Pythias in the cellar spot. Bob Turner led the newbies with a score of 1,113, and also had high individual with 288 in his third appearance on the alleys. Albert Stokes was next with 1,047, and he also topped the maples for a 283 score in his second game.

Bill Marshall captured the individual honors with an average of 213, according to the list released yesterday by Secretary Lionel Bryant. Eddie Newman was second with 209, and Edgar Borge in third berth with 206. The veteran Bill Dunn finished fourth with 204, and A. Dundersdale next with 204. G. Davies was the only other pin speller to break into the 200 class.

Tomorrow the Burnside Lawn Bowling Club will start the first of its club competitions when the Walter Chambers championship singles for club members will commence.

As the pennant system will be used for the running of this competition, many games will have to be played to determine the winner, who, as such, will represent the club in the provincial championship contest for the champion of champions trophy.

The runner-up and semi-finalists will be the club's choice to represent it in the "Oakland" doubles at the British Columbia lawn bowling tournament.

On Thursday evening, the regular weekly mixed rinks games, open to all men and women lawn bowlers in Greater Victoria, will commence.

Special doubles and rinks competitions are being arranged to take place on the Burnside greens on May 5 and 6. The doubles will be played on May 5, and the rinks competition will be played

Security Prices
Drop Slightly
At Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 29 (AP).—Stocks rallied in late trading today after a ragged performance during most of the session.

A further reduction in the world price of silver by 1c to 75.34c an ounce unsettled early sentiment, but it was the silver shares, ignoring this development, which led the late improvement. The United States Government stood pat on its price, established last Thursday, of 75.75c an ounce for domestically-produced white metal.

Rail stocks were lagging, but the general list was helped by a better Wall Street feeling toward the power and light issues encouraged by President Roosevelt's remarks on the utility regulation.

Total sales aggregated 886,350 shares.

A few of the leading silver stocks had good gains, headed by a 4-3/4 point advance in Cerro de Pasco at 62 1/8.

Amongst Canadian issues, Dominion Stores, C.P.R. Nickel, Canadian Industrial Alcohol, Hiram Walker, Ford of Canada, Hollinger and Lakeshore declined fractionally.

Consolidated Gas showed the way to utilities with an advance of more than a point at 23.34.

Weakness in a few wire communications issues held the corporate bond market in a narrow range today. Price changes were small.

Principal feature of the foreign department was a drop of a full point in German Government 5 1/2's to 261-2.

TORONTO MINES ARE IRREGULARSILVER GAIN SLIGHTLY AFTER EARLY RECESSION—GOLD
SHARES ARE SOFTER

TORONTO, April 29 (CP).—Overcoming the shock inflicted by another sizable drop in the quotation

on bar silver, the white metal stocks of the Toronto mining list pressed forward in the late trade

today to erase the bulk of the early losses and to show some minor net gains. Base metals displayed irregularity and the golds boarded

a preponderance of narrow losses.

The gold index was off from 114.65 to 114.44.

Trade bulked in the silvers. This group dropped at the opening,

under a rush of selling inspired by a reduction of more than a penny

in the bar silver price. Eldorado touched 2.31, after which it swung back up to 2.53 under short covering sagged again to 2.30 and again climbed, going to 2.58. The close at 2.53 was up 7 cents net. Castle and Bear moved down and up in similar manner and the former closed a cent off at 1.15, while Bear added 11-1/2. Nipissing lost 10 cents and Premier 3.

Noranda recovered a morning

drop to close 25 cents up at 38.75.

Mining Corporation gained 5, Sud-bury Basin 1 and Base Metals

Corporation 3.

The gold group was handicapped

by a loss of nearly a shilling in the bar gold price, but Hollinger, down 45 cents, had the only recovery of any importance. Dome gained 25.

Reno and Macassa were points of strength in the cheaper gold group and Wayside featured the penny

section with a net advance of 3-3/4

under heavy trading.

"LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT"

"Is 'Love at first sight' a modern phrase for an old custom, or is it as old as the habit?" inquires a reader.

"Love at first sight," one of the most self-explanatory phrases in the English language, first appeared in print in the latter part of the Sixteenth Century.

Its earliest use is credited to Christopher Marlowe in his work,
"Florio and I," published in 1582, and it is in the form, "Who about it," ever loved that loved not at first sight."

Ten years later, George Chapman used it in his play, "The Blind Begger of Alexandria," in the form,
"None ever loved but at first sight they loved."

Later still, the same phraseology was used, by Shakespeare in "As You Like It."

"What made your sister so mad?"
questioned Jimmy.
"Ah," she don't know what she wants," returned Bobby in disgust.
"She sent me to the drug store to get some cold cream. I got ice cream because that's the coldest kind they had, an' now she's sore about it."
